

What does the SoftwareCheck database contain?

The database contains detailed information about each product in the corporate network: from files that a software application consists of to proofs of purchase and owned licenses. The most information is obviously collected by the network scanner and fully automatically entered into the database! The Auditor has constant access to the information on the general licensing situation in the company, as well as components of particular applications on every workstation within the network.

